SEATTLE UNIVERSITY
SOCIAL WORK PROGRAM
STUDENT TWO-YEAR PLAN OF STUDY (Rsvd. 9/08)
62 credits

In order to earn the bachelor of social work degree, students must complete a minimum of 180 credits with a cumulative and a major GPA of 2.0 in the University core curriculum and major requirements. In addition, Social Work students must receive a C (2.00) or better in all required courses.

Social Work majors are required to apply for formal admission as a Bachelor of Social Work (BSW) degree candidate in the fall of their junior year. (See Student Handbook for details).

[1]SOCW 250 Introduction to Social Work is required prior to applying for admittance as a BSW candidate, therefore social work majors are advised to take it during their sophomore year.
[2]SOCW 470-2 Field Practicum: Monday and Wednesdays are designated as "field days"; 150 hours per quarter, approximately 15 hours per week. Required senior social work classes are offered on Tuesdays and Thursdays.
[3]SOCW 490 & ADST 480 meet CORE requirements and while required in the Social Work major, do not count towards the 62 credits in the major.
[4]Electives may be taken at anytime during the two years of study.
