

SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY AND MINISTRY – SEATTLE UNIVERSITY

STMA 523.

HISTORY AND SPIRITUALITY OF THE BOOK OF COMMON PRAYER, I

Spring Quarter 2011
Monday, 1:30 to 4:20 p.m.
Hunthausen 150

Mark Lloyd Taylor, Ph.D.
(206) 296-5633
FAX: (206) 296-5329

Office: Hunthausen 126
Office Hours: by appointment
e-mail: mltaylor@seattleu.edu

I. Course Description and Intention

This two-quarter course assumes participants already have a basic understanding of the contents of The Book of Common Prayer, of the outline of the history of the Episcopal Church, and of the fundamental principles of Anglican identity. The course has been developed to help those preparing for ministry in this Church (both lay and ordained) gain a deeper grasp of those understandings and arrive at an informed and articulate ownership of them. It is designed to correspond to introductory courses in worship and orientation seminars in Episcopal seminaries.

The intention of the course is fourfold:

1. to examine the historical development of the Prayer Book, from 1549 to the present revisions and supplements in the Episcopal Church, noting particularly the concerns and circumstances that prompted new editions;
2. to study the liturgical practices established by the Prayer Book, noting particularly their presuppositions, the vocabulary they provide for public and private occasions of ministry, and some initial considerations about their use;
3. to consider how the Prayer Book and its practical implementation “contain” Anglican theology and are an expression of a particular spirituality;
4. to reflect together on how the appropriation of the material examined and the gifts of our lives are forming us for ministry in the Episcopal Church (both lay and ordained).

In other words, we will consider Prayer Book history, liturgy, and theology, and we will explore the impact of these things on our life as faithful Christians in the Anglican tradition.

This course extends over two quarters. The first quarter (STMA 523) will deal with history, the principal elements in the liturgical worldview contained in our Prayer Book, the Daily Office, and initial consideration of the theology and spirituality carried by our liturgy. The second quarter (STMA 524) will examine the rites of initiation, the Eucharist, and the Ordinal, and will further develop competence in the use of our Prayer Book as a tool for theological reflection, evangelism, and formation.

II. Course Objectives

The objectives of this course are for each student to develop:

- 1) an understanding of the Prayer Book's role in carrying Anglican identity and spirituality;
- 2) an understanding of the historical development of the Prayer Book and of the relevance of that history for the identity and mission of the Episcopal Church today;
- 3) an understanding of the yearly, weekly, daily, and "occasional" rhythms of the common prayer of the Episcopal Church and the basic shape of services of "occasional," daily, weekly, and yearly prayer (special attention will be given to the Daily Office);
- 4) an ability to decipher, use, and interpret theologically Episcopal worship resources (especially those associated with the Daily Office);
- 5) competence and self-awareness as a leader of worship within the Episcopal Church (especially leadership of the Daily Office);
- 6) an ability to talk about faith as an Anglican;
- 7) an ability to think critically and empathetically and to express oneself clearly and creatively both orally and in writing;
- 9) an ability to reflect upon self, nature, society, and God more appropriately and to live out one's own faith more responsibly as a result of this encounter with the Anglican tradition;
- 10) a sensitivity to the ways sex, race, ethnicity, class, and culture intersect, enrich, and complicate Anglican identity and mission.

III. S.T.M. Learning Objectives Addressed in this Course

Students will give evidence of:

- Knowledge of the tradition in relation to sacramental theology, liturgical method, worship elements and structure, and the ability to engage them in an ecumenical diversity of practice.
- Ability to guide and direct a Christian community in its mission.
- Knowledge of the interaction of religious/spiritual experience and culture in their ecumenical and multicultural dimensions.
- Ability to inform ecclesial leadership with theology.

IV. Texts

The Book of Common Prayer, 1979. (Abbreviation: BCP)

Hatchett, Marion J. Commentary on the American Prayerbook.
New York: HarperCollins, 1995. (Commentary)

Holmes, David L. A Brief History of the Episcopal Church.
Valley Forge, Penn.: Trinity Press International, 1993. (Holmes)

Lee, Jeffrey. Opening the Prayer Book.
Boston: Cowley Publications, 1999. (Lee)

Stuhlman, Byron D. Eucharistic Celebration 1789-1979.
New York: The Church Hymnal Corporation, 1988. (Stuhlman)

Weil, Louis. A Theology of Worship.
Boston: Cowley Publications, 2002. (Weil)

Additional Resources (to be considered briefly):

The Hymnal 1982. (Abbreviation: Hymnal)

Holy Women, Holy Men: Celebrating the Saints, 2010. (HW, HM)
[replaces: Lesser Feasts and Fasts, 2006. (LFF)]

The Book of Occasional Services, 2003. (BOS)

Enriching Our Worship 1-5, 1998-2010. (EOW 1, EOW 2, etc.)

El Libro de Oración Común, 1981. (LOC)

Lift Every Voice and Sing II, 1993. (LEVS)

Kaye, Bruce. An Introduction to World Anglicanism. [recommended text]
Cambridge and New York: Cambridge University Press, 2008. (Kaye)

A few words about our texts:

1) Our primary textbook for the quarter is the 1979 Book of Common Prayer. Please obtain a copy specifically for use in this course – preferably an inexpensive hardbound copy you will feel free to write in (NOT your leather bound BCP and Hymnal combination!). Bring your “study” copy of the Prayer Book to every session of the course, including our first class. The Episcopal Bookstore on Stone Way in Seattle is the best local source for Prayer Books and other liturgical materials.

2) Marion Hatchett’s Commentary is an encyclopedia of historical, theological, and liturgical information concerning the 1979 BCP organized according to the order of materials in the Prayer Book itself. Reading is frequently assigned in this book as background to our work with the BCP. You should read Hatchett’s historical overviews of sections of the Prayer Book carefully – but then skim lightly over his detailed comments on specific elements of the Prayer Book. Please bring the Commentary to every class session.

IV. Texts (continued)

3) We will also work to familiarize ourselves with the many authorized supplements to the 1979 BCP: for example, the hymnals of the Episcopal Church, the Enriching Our Worship series, the Book of Occasional Services, Holy Women, Holy Men, and so on. Students need to have access to copies of all these liturgical resources, for there will be assigned reading from or “skimming” of them, although I do not expect that all students will necessarily purchase their own copies of all of these books. Check with your parish to see if you can borrow copies for the purposes of this course.

4) Jeffrey Lee’s book will be used throughout the quarter a section or two at a time – his book is our most general resource accompanying the Prayer Book itself.

5) We will use the books by David Holmes and Byron Stuhlman as primary resources in our study of Anglican and Episcopal history.

6) We will read some excerpts from Richard Hooker’s Laws of Ecclesiastical Polity on April 18. More information will be provided on the first day of class.

7) Louis Weil’s book will serve as a resource at the end of the quarter when we consider the character of Anglican spirituality and theology.

8) We will discuss the assignments from Lee, Holmes, Stuhlman, and Weil in the piecemeal order given later in this syllabus. However, if you’re the kind of person who needs to read an entire book before moving on to another, then read these books in the following order: Lee, Holmes, Stuhlman, and Weil.

9) I have listed Bruce Kaye’s book as an optional text. Copies are available through the Seattle University bookstore. Kaye is an Australian Anglican who spent a sabbatical here at STM a number of years ago; he gave several guest lectures in this course. I would encourage you, if you have the time, to look at the introduction to his book as well as chapter 1. Later, you might want to read the rest of the book in order to be more equipped to reflect upon and respond to the current situation within the worldwide Anglican Communion. The library copy of Kaye’s book is on “Closed Reserve” at Lemieux Library on the Seattle University campus (it can be checked out for 3 hours at a time, but cannot leave the library).

10) Important note: Byron Stuhlman’s book, Eucharistic Celebration 1789-1979, is out of print. Nevertheless, students must find access to the book. A copy is on “Closed Reserve” at Lemieux Library on the Seattle University campus (it can be checked out for 3 hours at a time, but cannot leave the library). The book has been used at STM in the past – consider trying to borrow a copy from one of the students in earlier classes. Check and see if clergy in your parish own and could loan you a copy of the book. Does your parish maintain a library? Check with the Diocesan Resource Center. Public library systems? Online used bookstores?

V. Procedures and Assignments

A. Attendance. Class sessions are the primary means by which the instructor and students can share the material introduced in the assigned texts and other activities. Therefore, attendance at all sessions of the course is essential. Unexcused absences will result in a reduction of the student's final grade.

B. Reading, Preparation for Class Sessions, and In-Class Participation. Each student is responsible for having read the material assigned for each session of the course and should be prepared to discuss their reading in class. Each student is also responsible for being an active participant in class sessions. Activities will include lectures, large group discussions, and small group work. A lack of preparation for and participation in class sessions will result in a reduction of the student's final grade.

C. Liturgical Preparation and Leadership. Each student will assist in the preparation and leadership of communal prayers at one of our class sessions (the Daily Office). Brief discussion of the office, with feedback from the rest of the class, will be a part of this preparation and leadership. Students will hand in a one page double-spaced set of reflections discussing the choices made in planning each particular office.

D. Papers. Each student will write two papers on Anglican/Episcopal identity over the course of the quarter. Paper #1 will have an historical focus and is due at the beginning of class on Monday, May 2. Paper #2 will focus on liturgy and is due at the beginning of class on Monday, June 2. Specific written guidelines for both papers will be provided.

VI. Computation of Final Grade

Paper #1	35%
Paper #2	35%
Liturgical Preparation and Leadership	15%
Class Preparation and Participation	15%

VII. Schedule of Class Sessions and Assignments

Why Are We Here?

Monday in the Week of 3 Lent – March 28

Getting Acquainted and Getting Oriented

Introductions – Course Organization – A Book of Common Prayer?
– The Rhythms and Shapes of Prayer

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 1-39
2. BCP, 13-14
3. Commentary, 1-35

Monday in the Week of 4 Lent – April 4

The Daily Rhythm of Our Common Prayer and the Shape of Daily Prayer

The Daily Office – The Psalter

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. BCP, 35-73//74-102, 103-146; skim: 581-808, 933-1001
2. Commentary, 89-153, 551-553, 592-594
3. Skim: Hymnal, S1-S66, S177-S288, 1-46
4. Skim: EOW 1, 18-45

How Did We Get Here?

Monday in the Week of 5 Lent – April 11

The Anglican Reformation and the Origins of the Prayer Book Tradition

The English Prayer Books of 1549, 1552, and 1559 – The Great Litany

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 40-55; Holmes, 1-18; Stuhlman, 1-47
2. BCP, 147-155, 863-876
3. Commentary, 154-162, 583-588
4. Kaye, 9-34 [recommended]

Monday in Holy Week – April 18

The Church of England from the 16th to the 19th Century

Richard Hooker on Word and Sacrament – The English Civil War

– The English Prayer Book of 1662

– Anglicanism and English Colonialism

Re-Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 40-55; Holmes, 1-18; Stuhlman, 1-47

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Excerpts from Hooker's Laws of Ecclesiastical Polity
2. Kaye, 35-63 [recommended]

VII. Schedule of Class Sessions and Assignments (continued)

How Did We Get Here? (continued)

Monday in Easter Week – April 25

The Birth and Development of the Episcopal Church

The American Prayer Books of 1789 and 1892 in Historical Context

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 56-83; Holmes, 19-91; Stuhlman, 49-104
2. BCP, 361-365
3. Commentary, 349-373, 374-375

St. Mark the Evangelist (transferred) – May 2

The Episcopal Church in the 20th Century

The American Prayer Books of 1928 and 1979 – Looking to the Future

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Holmes, 92-178; Stuhlman, 105-183
2. BCP, skim: 5-1001; read: 5-7
3. Commentary, 19-21
4. Skim: EOW 1, 2, 3, 4, and 5
5. Skim: LOC and LEVS

Paper #1 Due

Who Are We?

Gregory Nazianzus, Bishop of Constantinople – May 9

The 1979 American Prayer Book

The Yearly Rhythm of Our Common Prayer and the Shape of Yearly Prayer

- The Calendar of the Church Year – The Collects
- Proper Liturgies for Special Days – Holy Baptism
- Holy Women, Holy Men

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 84-100; Weil, 1-28
2. BCP, 15-33, 157-158, 159-210//211-261, 263-295, 297-314
3. Commentary, 36-88, 163-216, 217-250, 251-288
4. Skim: HW, HM

Monday in the Fourth Week after Easter – May 16

The 1979 American Prayer Book

The Weekly Rhythm of Our Common Prayer and the Shape of Weekly Prayer

– The Holy Eucharist

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 101-113; Weil, 29-52
2. BCP, 315-349//350-393, 394-409
3. EOW 1, 50-88
4. Commentary, 289-422

VII. Schedule of Class Sessions and Assignments (continued)

Who Are We? (continued)

Nicolas Copernicus and Johannes Kepler, Astronomers – May 23

The 1979 American Prayer Book

The Daily and Occasional Rhythm of Our Common Prayer and the Shape of Daily and Occasional Prayer – The Daily Office – Pastoral Offices
– Episcopal Services – The Book of Occasional Services

Read (or re-read) and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 113-124
2. BCP, 35-73//74-102, 103-146; skim: 412-579
3. Commentary, 89-153; skim: 423-550
4. Skim: EOW 2, 3, 4, 5
5. Skim: BOS

Jeanne d'Arc, Mystic and Soldier – May 30

No Class Session – Memorial Day Holiday

Ini Kopuria, Founder of the Melanesian Brotherhood – June 6

Common Prayer, Anglican Spirituality, and Anglican Theology

Read and be prepared to discuss:

1. Lee, 125-170
2. Weil, 53-143
3. BCP, 876-878
4. Commentary, 588

Paper #2 Due