

CURRICULUM VITAE

EDUCATION

Doctor of Psychology (Psy.D.), 2014; Antioch University Seattle, WA.

Dissertation title: Mothering and the Functional Self: A Hermeneutic Exploration of Texts on Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders.

Master of Arts (MA) in Existential-Phenomenological Therapeutic Psychology, 1993; Seattle University, Seattle, WA

Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Humanistic Studies, 1985; St. Mary's of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, IN

LICENSURE

Licensed Psychologist in the State of Washington since 2018; #PY60689536

Licensed Mental Health Counselor in the State of Washington since 1998; #LH00005948

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Psychotherapy Private Practice, Seattle, WA

Licensed Psychologist

Licensed Mental Health Counselor

6/1999 - Present

Provide short- and long-term treatment for individuals and couples experiencing depression, anxiety, life transitions, conflicts in relationships, grief and loss, as well as complex trauma including childhood abuse, neglect, and abandonment. Provide supervision for master's-level clinicians working towards full licensure.

Cura Psychologia

Seattle University Faculty Ambassador, Psychology

9/2022 – Present

The Cura Psychologia Project aims to create a vibrant and productive interdisciplinary and cross-departmental community of 18 faculty ambassadors from six Jesuit Catholic Universities: Boston College, the College of the Holy Cross, Fordham University, Georgetown University, Loyola Marymount University, and Seattle University. The development of this learning community, along with the research, scholarship, and public-facing offerings its members produce, seeks to act as a catalyst for change in the psychology departments at the six institutions represented by this project. This three-year project (2022-2025) aims to be the first step toward the goal of broadening the discipline of psychology as practiced in psychology departments at Jesuit universities such that scholars and students are better able to approach questions of character virtue formation, ethical reasoning, and moral discernment.

Seattle Psychology, Seattle, WA

Associate, Licensed Mental Health Counselor

6/2013 – 6/2018

As part of a group practice, I provided short-term and long-term psychological treatment for individuals and couples experiencing depression, anxiety, life transitions, conflicts in relationships, grief and loss, as well as complex trauma including childhood abuse, neglect, and abandonment. In addition, I managed HIPAA-compliance records for the group of psychotherapists and psychologists, participated in group consult meetings, and offered consultation to colleagues seeking treatment-specific interventions.

Antioch University Seattle, Psy.D. Program

Graduate Fellow

9/2008- 9/2009

Supervisor: Melissa Kennedy, PhD

Collaborated with Antioch faculty member as a research and teaching assistant including literature reviews and writing for publication, contributing to course content and syllabi, serving on task force positions for APA accreditation.

Meditation InstructorSamadhi Yoga Studio, Seattle, WA

10/2006 – 8/2007

Conducted weekly classes utilizing meditation, guided visualization, and relaxation for individuals experiencing anxiety, insomnia, and traumatic stress.

Spiritual Director and Workshop FacilitatorIgnatian Spirituality Center, Seattle, WA

1/2000 – 5/2007

Met with individual clients for spiritual direction. Coordinated and presented workshops on the Ignatian Prayer Experience and on Discernment (i.e. making life decisions which are congruent with one's personality, temperament, and sense of purpose).

Grief and Loss Workshop Facilitator, Seattle and Bellevue, WA

Group Leader 11/1998 – 12/2001

Developed and presented one-day workshops and six-week support groups using reflection, meditation, discussion, process, skill building, and support to heal from grief, loss, and difficult life transitions.

Associated Provider Network/ Compass Health, Everett, WA

Crisis Clinician, 7/1999 – 2/2000

Responded to individuals and families in crisis, assessed severity and arranged appropriate care including inpatient admission, temporary respite care, access to substance abuse treatment, and referrals to ongoing case management or therapy services.

Psychiatric Management Resources, Bellevue, WA

Therapist 2/1999 – 9/1999

Conducted individual and group therapy for chronically and seriously mentally ill adults in a day treatment model. Developed treatment plans, documented client status and response to treatment, and coordinated program services with other service providers.

Associated Provider Network/ Compass Health, Everett, WA

Access Clinician II, 12/1997 - 6/1999

Supervisor: Sharon Wolfe, MSW

Assessed, triaged, and screened clients seeking mental health services in a five-county region utilizing UNIX and Microsoft computer software and an automated phone system. Coordinated referrals for ongoing care and community support. Assessed clients for crisis services and facilitated seamless access to those services as needed. Maintained a catalog of community resources and referrals for the five-county region.

Compass Health/Counterpoint Community Mental Health Services, Edmonds, WA

Clinician II, 3/1994 - 12/1997

Responsible for a caseload of 40 adults experiencing chronic and severe mental illnesses. The work included brief as well as long-term psychotherapy, case management, intake, assessment/diagnosis, treatment planning, crisis intervention, evaluation, and record maintenance. Planned and facilitated psycho-educational and therapy groups for adults, and children's social skills groups.

Graduate Assistantship Seattle University, Department of Psychology

9/1991 – 8/1992

Supervisor: Steen Halling, Ph.D.

Contributed to an on-going qualitative research project that investigated the experience of social activists.

PROVISION OF CLINICAL SUPERVISION

Private Practice, Seattle, WA

1/2001 – Present

Washington State Approved Supervisor, as per WAC 246-809-234

Provide supervision and consultation to clinicians pursuing licensure at the master's level. Supervision focuses on ways of engaging with clients and establishing a therapeutic relationship, conceptualizing the client's situation and psychosocial history, and developing therapeutic techniques and methods appropriate for effective interventions. Also address issues of ethical practice and ways of empowering clients in the healing process, as well as the growth and development of the therapist.

Seattle University, Master of Arts in Existential-Phenomenological Psychology, Seattle, WA

9/2012 – 6/2023

Provide clinical supervision to second-year masters students who are on internship. We meet in groups of four to five students on a weekly basis during the school quarter. Topics covered include the therapeutic relationship, case conceptualization, encountering clients from diverse backgrounds, managing clinic dynamics, therapist growth and care, crises in clinical care (e.g. suicidality, violence, psychosis, homelessness, and barriers to services), and coordinating with social and professional services.

Counterpoint Community Mental Health Services, Edmonds, WA

4/1996- 12/1997

Provided direct clinical supervision and teaching to master's level interns in all phases of treatment. Taught psychosocial assessment, evaluation, diagnosis, and record maintenance, as well as therapeutic process in group and individual psychotherapy, brief therapy, case management, and termination.

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Lecturer

Seattle University, Seattle, WA

Supervisors: Kevin Krycka, Psy.D., and Randall Horton, Ph.D., Program Directors MA in Psychology; Erica Lilleleht, PhD, Kathleen Cook, Ph.D., and Katherine Raichle, Ph.D., Program Chairs, Psychology

9/2013 – Present

Courses Taught:

- Introduction to Psychology (Undergraduate, Psychology)
- Psychology of Gender (Undergraduate, Psychology)
- Therapeutic Communications (MA in Psychology)
- Reproductive Mental Health: Equity, Advocacy, and Diversity (MA in Psychology)
- Supervision Seminar (MA in Psychology)
- Issues in Psychotherapy (MA in Psychology)
- Maternal Theory and Care (MA in Psychology)
- Human Growth and Development (MA in Psychology)
- World of the Clinic (MA in Psychology)
- Modern Selves and Global Society (Undergraduate, Honors College)

Adjunct Faculty

Bastyr University, Kenmore, WA

Supervisor: Amy Davis, Psy.D., Clinical Training Director

8/2013

Developed and taught a course on Mind-Body Approaches for Health in the Master of Arts in Counseling Health Psychology program.

FORMAL CLINICAL TRAINING EXPERIENCE

Fremont Community Therapy Project, Seattle, WA

Intern 7/2012 – 6/2013

Supervisor: Laura S. Brown, PhD, ABPP

As part of a full-time, doctoral internship in clinical psychology, I provided psychotherapy for individuals and couples, teaching Dialectical Behavioral Therapy skills groups, and conducting psychological assessments. As part of this training opportunity, I received approximately six hours per week of supervision and consultation and two hours per week of didactic training. The population served at this clinic included those with severe mental illnesses, complex trauma histories, and limited resources. In addition, informal peer consultation was a daily aspect of this feminist theory-informed clinic.

Fremont Community Therapy Project Practicum: Assessment, Seattle, WA

Assessment Clinician 3/2011 – 6/2011

Supervisor: Laura S. Brown, PhD, ABPP

As part of a 300-hour practicum, I am conducted psychological assessments on underserved clients, including assessments for learning disabilities, and recommended accommodations in the academic environment. As part of this practicum, I completed a course of independent study in client-centered, therapeutic psychological assessment.

Fremont Community Therapy Project, Seattle, WA

Practicum/Pre-internship Therapist 9/2009 – 8/2010

Supervisor: Laura S. Brown, PhD, ABPP

Completed 1080 hours of experience with low-income, underserved populations. This included individual psychotherapy and intervention, assessment, group and individual supervision, and didactic learning activities. The clinic modeled a feminist therapy ethic, and so community decision making and organizational tasks were also a part of my experience.

Antioch Community Counseling & Psychology Clinic, Seattle, WA

Practicum Therapist 1/2008 – 3/2009

Supervisor: Melissa Kennedy, PhD

As part of the Health Psychology Concentration, doctoral students worked with diverse, low-income clients experiencing varying degrees of distress in response to chronic and severe medical illnesses, and long-term and recent trauma. Responsibilities included intake and assessment, referral to community-based services for specific needs, crisis intervention, brief and long-term psychotherapy.

Counterpoint Community Mental Health Services, Edmonds, WA

Outpatient Therapist Internship, 9/1992 - 6/1993

As a requirement of the Seattle University MA in psychology program, I completed a nine month, 600-hour practicum experience. I was responsible for a caseload of 10-12 adults experiencing chronic and severe mental illnesses. Treatment modalities included brief as well as long-term individual psychotherapy, psycho-educational and therapeutic groups, case management, intake, assessment/diagnosis, treatment planning, crisis intervention, evaluation, and record maintenance. I was supervised on-site as well as by a faculty member of the Seattle University MA in Psychology program.

WORKSHOPS/GROUP FACILITATIONIgnatian Prayer Experience and Ignatian Spiritual Discernment

Ignatian Spirituality Center, Seattle, WA

2003 – 2005, Facilitator

St. Joseph Adult Faith Formation Discernment Series

St. Joseph Parish, Seattle, WA

2005, Facilitator and Coordinator

Lectio Divina Workshop/Prayer Experience

Youth Convention, Seattle, WA

2004

Spiritual Exercises in Everyday Life (SEEL)

Ignatian Spirituality Center, Seattle, WA

1998- 1999 – Participant

2000 – 2001 – Spiritual Director/Facilitator

PUBLICATIONS

- Pape, K.M. (2021) Emerging into a World of Understanding: A Hermeneutic Exploration of Perinatal Mood Disorders and Clinical Practice. In P. Cushman (Ed.) Hermeneutic Approaches to Interpretive Research: Dissertations in a Different Key. Routledge.
- Pape, K.M. (2015). The Face of the Other in Motherhood. In K. Krycka, G. Kunz, & G. Sayre (Eds.) Psychotherapy for the Other. Pittsburgh, PA: Duquesne University Press.
- Pape, K.M. (2014). Mothering and the Functional Self: A Hermeneutic Exploration of Texts on Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders. (Order No. 3680501). Available from ProQuest Dissertations & Theses A&I. (1650710482). Retrieved from <http://login.proxy.seattleu.edu/login?url=https://search-proquest-com.proxy.seattleu.edu/docview/1650710482?accountid=28598>
- Pape, K.M. (2012). Review of Erika Horwitz's Through the maze of motherhood: Empowered mothers speak. In Journal of the Motherhood Initiative for Research and Community Involvement, 3, 271-272.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

Doctoral Dissertation, Antioch University, Seattle, WA (2014)

Mothering and the Functional Self: A Hermeneutic Exploration of Texts on Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders. This dissertation project was a theoretical analysis, utilizing the principles of hermeneutical philosophy, of texts on Postpartum Mood and Anxiety Disorders.

Independent Research Project, Seattle, WA (1998- Present)

Death, Grace, and Transformation: The Experience of losing a Sibling in Mid to Early Adulthood. This project was a qualitative, phenomenological research project to investigate the experience of early adult sibling bereavement. It involved open-ended interviews with adults who had experienced the death of a sibling, and utilized qualitative, heuristic research and analysis, as articulated by Clark Moustakas, to organize themes around the experience of loss.

Graduate/Research Assistant, Seattle University Department of Psychology (1991-1993)

Assisted psychology staff on two research projects including transcription, writing narratives of interviews, participating in dialogue with the researchers on themes in the interviews, and presenting the results of our research at conferences in Michigan and The Netherlands.

PROFESSIONAL PRESENTATIONS

Pape, K.M. (2023, June). We Shall Be Moved to Mercy and Compassion. Response to D. Orange's And We Shall be Changed: Radical Ethics for the Humanistic Disciplines. Cura Psychologia and Boston College's Psychological Humanities and Lecture Series, Seattle University.

Pape, K.M. (2023, April). To Teach in a Lovingly Subversive Way: Reflections on the Work and Influence of Dr. Philip Cushman. Div 24, STPP Spring Meeting, Boston College.

Pape, K.M. (2023, April). Art Will Save Us. Response to L. Layton's Normative Unconscious Processes. Div 24, STPP Spring Meeting, Boston College.

Cushman, P., Lord, S.G., Pape, K.M., Ludlam, J., Masler, D. Livshetz, M. (2021, September). Breaking Scientism's Stranglehold on Psychology: Hermeneutics and the Politics of Resistance. Psychology & the Other Conference 2021. Boston College.

Pape, K.M. & Slaughter, S. (2020, May). Telepsychology, Clinical Presence, and the Therapeutic Relationship. Continuing Education virtual presentation for Washington State Psychological Association.

Pape, K.M. (2019, April). Developing Good Community Members Through Introductory Psychology. Conference on Teaching Introductory Psychology Northwest. Highline Community College, Washington.

Pape, K.M. (2018, November). Open educational resource in the classroom. Faculty Showcase Presentation, Seattle University, Center for Digital Learning & Innovation.

Pape, K.M. (2017, April). Pitching hermeneutics. Conference on Teaching Introductory Psychology Northwest. Highline Community College, Washington.

Pape, K.M. (2012, May). To be "not learned, save in gracious household ways:" A Hermeneutic analysis of how consumer-market parenting manuals have defined women's roles as mothers. Paper presented at the International Conference on Mothers and History: Histories of Motherhood, Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Brown, L.S., Slaughter, S., Pape, K.M., et al. (2010, February). Creating a feminist therapy community training clinic: Our experiences building the Fremont Community Therapy Project. Panel presented at the 35th Annual Conference of the Association for Women in Psychology, Portland, OR.

Pape, K. M. (2009, October). The Face of the other as an ethic of motherhood. Paper presented at The Psychology of the Other: The seventh annual seminar on the relevance of Emmanuel Levinas' philosophy for the theory and practice of psychology, Seattle, WA.

Kennedy, M. J. & Pape, K. M. (2009, May). Intuitive Moments: A Phenomenological study of the experience of intuition during psychotherapy. Paper presented at the Seattle

University Giving Voice to Experience Phenomenology, Research and Clinical Practice Conference, Seattle, WA.

Pape, K. M. (2008, June). A Social constructivist lens on the loss of a sibling in early to mid-adulthood. Paper presented at the Seattle University Phenomenological Research Conference, Seattle, WA.

Pape, K. M. (2002, June). The Experience of the Changing Self in the Loss of a Sibling. Paper presented at the International Human Sciences Research Conference, Victoria, BC

Pape, K. M. (1999, June). Death, Grace, and Transformation: The Experience of Losing a Sibling in Early to Mid-Adulthood. Paper presented at the International Human Sciences Research Conference in Sheffield, England

Halling, S., Rowe, J. O., Lambo, D., & Pape, K. M. (1993, June). Dialogal Phenomenology. Paper presented at the International Human Sciences Research Conference, Groningen, The Netherlands

Halling, S., Rowe, J. O., & Pape, K. M. (1992, July). The Phenomenology of Social Activism. Paper presented at the International Human Sciences Research Conference, Michigan, USA

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

American Psychological Association, Member since 2007; including Membership in Division 24 (Society for Theoretical and Philosophical Psychology), and Division 39 (Society for Psychoanalysis and Psychoanalytic Psychology).

International Association for Relational Psychoanalysis and Psychotherapy (IARPP), Member since 2018

Northwest Alliance for Psychoanalytic Study (NWAPS) Member since 2018

Motherhood Institute for Research and Community Involvement (MIRCI), York, CANADA, Member since 2009

Washington Mental Health Counselors Association, Member since 1999, retired.

American Mental Health Counselors Association, Member since 1999, retired.

Postpartum Support International (PSI) Member since 2011

VOLUNTEER EXPERIENCE

Response: Help for Battered Women, Aspen, CO

Crisis Counselor, 5/1987 – 10/1988

Served as a telephone crisis counselor and advocate to women in domestic violence situations. Facilitated referrals to community agencies for counseling and assisted women in finding safe housing and additional social supports.

Institute for Latin American Concern, Creighton University, Omaha, NE

6/1984-8/1984

As an undergraduate student volunteer, I lived with and become a part of a family and community in the campos of the Dominican Republic. Focused on building relationships across cultural, linguistic, and socio-economic barriers as well as creating the opportunity for Dominicans living in rural communities to receive basic health care, outreach services and "charlas" (educational talks) on techniques to improve the quality of life through preventative health care.